Modern Solutions for Your Project-Driven Business

Doing good inspires us

Our commitment to service doesn't stop with our customers. We strive to contribute to the communities around us by building partnerships that foster social, economic, and educational advancements. Partnerships with charitable organizations like, STEM for Her, that provide hands-on experiences, mentors, role models and other programs to girls and young women on their paths toward careers in STEM.

We call this effort:

Unanet United

Working with business leaders for change

We have strong relationships and representation with leading organizations in our industry and our local business community. By collaborating with these groups, we can help drive economic growth for all, be a voice for inclusion, give our customers the latest information, and ensure our entire industry can rise up to meet the challenges that lay before it.

Getting involved and giving back

At Unanet, we are dedicated to supporting our communities socially, economically, and educationally. While we work with local charities, we know positive change starts with us. This is why we established our Charitable Giving and Dollars for Doers programs to inspire, encourage, and recognize our employees' support to nonprofit charitable organizations.
With Charitable Giving, we match our employees' contributions to charities and with Dollars for Doers, we make contributions based on our employees' time spent volunteering.
